Shut Down.

The employees in the hot mill of the Tin Plate works hailed with joy the news that their department would suspend operations for two weeks. Coming as it does in the heat of the summer, this vacation will be a great benefit to the men and give them an excellent opportunity to spend the 4th where they choose.

The shut down is for the purpose of completing some long needed repairs, and will resume work about July 14th.

R. G. Stephens, of the firm of Luce Bros. and Stephens, grocers, who has been absent for the past ten days, returned home Thursday of this week. Mr. Stephens was absent on a wedding trip, having visited Wheeling, Cincinnati and intermediate points. They will make their home for the present with Mr. Stephens parents, near Fayette City, until their new home is completed in Monessen, where they will be at home to their many friends after Sept. 1st.

On account of the rain the game between Monessen and Charleroi, scheduled to take place this afternoon at the Ball Park had to be postponed. Two games will take place here July 4th, when the Dravosburg club will play the home team. The morning game will be called at 10:30 and the afternoon game at 2:30.

Quite a little excitement was caused by Officer Veaber while arresting a disorderly Italian, corner 5th street and Schoonmaker avenue, to-day, about 4 o'clock. A bystander attempted to interfere and with the assistance of Chief Cooper they were both placed behind the bars.

Mike Gettly, a slav laborer, employed at the Page, had his leg broken this morning Dr. Dillinger was called and reduced the fracture. The patient was sent to Mercy Hospital, Pittsburg.

We herewith present to the public the first issue of our paper The Independent. We make no promises as to the future, and have no apologies to make for the past. We issue this merely as an advertising medium, and to give an account of the ball game. The fact that it will be read goes without question, and we hope the public will deal gently with us in their criticisms, remembering that creeping comes before walking and walking before running.

Married.

Mr Thomas Conroy, formerly of Monessen, but now of New Kensington, Pa., and Miss Freda Krahmer, of Jefferson township, Allegheny county, were married on Wednesday, July 25, at St. Michael's church, Elizabeth, by Rev. M. McCarthy. The bride is a well and favorably known young lady of that place, and a sister of Mrs Wm. Zimmerman, of this city. The many friends of the bride and groom join in wishing them much happiness. They departed for New Kensington, where they will make their future home.

A very pretty private home wedding was that of Miss Cora Strickler to Mr. Jesse Compton. Mr. Compton is employed by the Pittsburg Tin Plate Co. as an electrian. Miss Strickler is a sister of Mrs. J. D. Luce, a prominent grocer of this place, at whose home the ceremony was performed, Wednesday evening, by Rev. Smith, of the Christian Church.

Success Gleanings.

"A gay, serene spirit is all that is noble and good," said Schiller. "Whatever is accomplished of the greatest and noblest sort flows from such a disposition. Petty, gloomy souls that only mourn the past and dread the future are not capable of siezing on the holiest moments of life." If people would look at worry in all its naked hideousness, as the manifestation of a small, harrow nature, incapable of entertaining large views, or of trusting grandly, they would be ashamed to be counted among its victims. But the chronic worrier prides himself on the "foresight." on his prudence in taking thought for the morrow. The mother who is afraid to let her children go out to play lest they fall and hurt themselves, or soil their clothes, and worries from morning till night over the petty cares of the day, thanks her stars that she is not careless, like other women.

The soul, like the "messenger from Mars," has never seen money and knows no charm in it. There are desires, there is hunger, that cannot be reached by the check book. It is the coarser side, the more brutal in us—the animal, in fact,—which is satisfied with money, but there is that within us which money cannot minister to—which money cannot attract. The finer character element feeds on love and service. Fame does not touch it, riches do not appeal to it, nor do houses or lands satisfy it. This divine self, this ideal, is starving for food in many a palace, is a pauper in the midst of wealth, is hungry for an impalpable food. All that wealth can buy only gives it dyspepsia. Fine tapestries and costly furnishings and bric-a-crac have no power to satisfy its longings.

The man who would win must carry in his very presence an air of assurance, the certainty of a conquerer. People admire a confident man. They can trust him. They hate doubt and vacillation. It is the balanced man that wins, not the one who goes about as if he did not, himself, believe that he could win if he had a chance. It is the strong aggressive character that creates enthusiam and radiates confidence.

"If all cannot live on the piazza, every one may feel the sun," says an Italian proverb. Life is full of sunshine for all who wish to absorb it, and full of gloom for those who take a morbid pleasure in dwelling in their shadows. Difficulties and troubles if bravely met, make strong men and women, but worrying and anticipating about them make yretty weak ones.

The crop of June weddings is keeping up to the standard.

Mr. Cook, of Braddock, was in town to-day looking up a location for a restaurant.

Small boys are now saving their pennies to buy noise producers for the 4th.

Ex-Sheriff Martin, of the firm of Burns & Martin, has gone to his home at Beaver, Pa., and will return in a few days.

S. C. Golden, formerly principal of the public schools at Altoona, is now selling lots for Burns and Martin, and he is a hustler.

John, young son of P. B. Long, of Schoonmaker avenue, shot a bullet through his hand while playing with a revolver this morning.

George Myford and Adam Brautegam, the genial proprietors of the Commercial and Foster hotels were up at Erie this week attending the Democratic convention.

Wm. Bennett, a noted character, well-known in Monessen and vicinity, after having served ninety days in the Greensburg jail, was liberated July 27. There is nothing slow about Bennett, as evidenced by the fact that before leaving the warden's office he stole all that genial host's supply of tobacco. He was returned to his abiding place for thirty days more.

Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of W. F. Graham to Miss Susie E. Puff. The groom is at present a resident of this place, and employed by the American Bridge company at the new steel mill above town, where he has charge of the carpenter work. The bride is the accomplished and fascinating daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Puff, of Saxonburg, at whose home the happy event will take place, Thursday, July 3d. The INDEPENDENT joins with their many friends in wishing them long life and much happiness.

Success.

The following are a few of the thousand of testimonials received by the Success Co., of New York, indorsing their magazine, published monthly and called Success. Every article found between the covers of this book tend to success They inspire readers of all ages and sex to look up, to push forward, to be energetic, and ever keeping in mind the true goal of success. Not as appertaining to the accumulation of a vast amount of wealth, the acquiring of power, or the starving of the heart to reach the top rung in the ladder of some deep science. Oh no. This is not the doctrine of SUCCESS, which the learned editor of this, the best magazine for young men ever published, endeavors to teach and inculcate into the minds and lives of the youth of our land. It is the success of right living, of making the best of our lives, of broadening our intellect and giving us a truer conception of life as it is.

"SUCCESS is a clean honest magazine of inspiration, and contains no trash that is injurious to the minds of the young. It has often been an inspiration to me when I have felt discouraged. I shall never be without it."—Ernest W. Leslie, 463 West Ferry Street, Buffalo, New York.

"I desire to say that I consider SUCCESS the best publication for young men in the world. I have read it since the first number was issued and have been delighted with its excellent features."—Charles R. Skinner, State Superintendent of Schools, New York.

"I can truthfully say that SUCCESS is gradually bringing out much of the latent energy which I find has been slumbering within me, and it is a still further impetus to spur me on, as well as others."—O. T. Jackson, Manitou, Colorado.

"We have a wide range of reading matter, but no other publication equals SUCCESS. It gives new life and hope and makes true men and women—what the world needs."—C. V. Baldwin, Bridgeman, Michigan.

A TOWN OF 25,000

Now Monessen's population has reached and passed the seven thousand mark and ere two more years passes over her head she will have twelve thousand. The mills here are now all running full handed and there is a great demand for outside labor. The new mills and blast furnaces soon to be erected will give employment to hundreds more and this in turn will create a demand for carpenters, bricklayers, plumbers and all other tradesmen to build homes for those employes to live in. From this it can readily be seen that the growth of Monessen is not limited and in a few short years the people who live here will be enjoying all the modern conveniences and accomodations of a second class city.

Free mail delivery, is one of the improvements soon to be inaugurated and the street car line will soon be in operation. An up-to-date electric plant is projected, an ice plant is to be built, a first class laundry is now in operation and other improvements too numerous to mention are springing up on every hand until our little city is the wonder of all visitors and a surprise to the natives in its phenomenal growth.

It is rumored that a scheme is being put on foot for the forming of a company to secure a charter for a ferry at Ninth street to connect with the street car line on the other side of the river. If successful in securing the charter, council will be asked to open up this street from the railroad to the river and establish and maintain a creditible wharf—something Monessen lacks. It is further stated that the parties interested have already secured the proper rights of way on the opposite side of the river to warrant them in constructing an incline to connect with the cars at the summit of the hill. This would be a great convenience to the traveling public in many ways. It would practically open the Eldora plan of lots which lie just back of the intersection of the proposed incline and would bring the populace of this beautiful spot within a very few minutes travel of our mills and business houses.

It is to be hoped the scheme will be carried out successfully. If it is completed as planned, it will add another convenient ingress to our city and with a bridge at Lock 4, a street car line from Webster to Fayette City, the extension of the P. & L. E. railroad through to Brownsville, who can prophesy the future greatness of Monessen?

CHARMED CROWN PRINCE.

His Highness of Siam Admires an American Beauty.

If actions speak louder than words, as has been so often remarked, it would seem that the crown prince of Siam has awarded the palm of American beauty to Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of General James H Wilson, who recently entertained the royal visitor at her home in Wilmington, Del.

MISS ELEANOR WILSON.

The prince was constantly with the charming daughter of his host and presented to her a play which he had written and dedicated to her

He met the young woman during the coronation ceremonies in London and, it is said, showed marked attention to her there.

FLIGHT OF THE SNIPE.

Its Dodging Comes From the Ancestral Method of Avoiding Foes.

The flight of the snipe is swift, vigorous and usually for the first few yards erratic. The bird gets under way smartly, and as a usual thing goes boring up wind in a style rather suggestive of a feathered corkscrew. A series of electrical zigzags get him to top speed, whereupon his progress steadies a bit and he darts away in something more like a straight line. As a general rule a flushed bird springs a few feet into the air, hangs for the fraction of a second, then begins to twist and dodge as though the Old Boy was at his tail. It would be very interesting could we discover the original cause of the dodging. Possibly some ancient foe, now long extinct, was best baffled by that mode of flight, for there usually is some such explanation for peculiar actions by wild things. Because the flight happens to be puzzling to a gunner is no guarantee that the bird dodges for that purpose—such an explanation would imply a deal more intelligence than the entire tribe of snipe are possessed of. Snipe, of course, dodged on the wing long prior to the appearance of firearms, and it is extremely unlikely that the erratic flight has anything in the nature of protective tactics against the devices of human foes.—Edwyn Sandys in Outing.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM E. SEWELL.

the governor reaches his destination, as the ship on which he sailed, the Supply, is a very slow sailer.

Captain Sewell has had a long and honorable career in the naval service. He was appointed to Annapolis in July, 1866, and since his graduation he has spent most of the time at sea. His family accompanies him to Guam.

The new governor will remain for three years on the lonely Pacific isle, where mail is to be had only at intervals of several months.

In a Tangle.

"The trouble between Nora and myself is that each of us happened to call and find the other out on the same afternoon."

"But why should that cause ill feeling?"

"Because now we can't make out which owes the other a visit."—Harper's Monthly.

Brown's Sympathy.

Jones—Charley fell from a street car last evening.

Brown—Oh, I'm awfully sorry!

Jones—But he wasn't hurt at all.

Brown—I wasn't thinking about Charley, I was thinking of the sufferings of those who would be told about that fall for months to come.—Boston Transcript.
